

WE ARE LEARNING...

OUR SCHOOL VALUES

To be a LEARNER.

We do this by following instructions and trying our best in class to ensure we are listening and not distracting others.

Help me at home by asking about my day and checking in to see what I've been learning.

LITERACY

To continue using 'The Writing Process' to plan, draft and publish different text types including narrative texts. To identify and use descriptive language such as adjectives and figurative language to make my stories great to read.

To reflect on my reading goals and set new goals for reading to help improve my comprehension, fluency and accuracy.

You can help me at home by encouraging me to read every night and complete my Reading Log.

NUMERACY

To investigate fractions and their relationship to decimals. To measure area of shapes and investigate the probability of events occurring.

Help me at home by playing card and dice games with me and encouraging me to help create a vegetable garden that I can create by using my knowledge of measurement and area. Ask my teacher for some game ideas.

INQUIRY FOCUS

To investigate the connection Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people have with Country. To research how the world changed during The Age of Exploration and the impact of Captain Cook's Arrival on Australia's First Nations people. We may have the opportunity to work with the National Museum of Australia to investigate Cook's arrival from an indigenous perspective.

To use and apply the Learner Assets of communicator, collaborator, self-manager, researcher and thinker through a range of explorative and student lead tasks.

Help me at home by going for a walk on Ngunnawal Country and taking photos of the landscape, flora and fauna. Sharing these images with your child's teacher will allow the teacher to create a whole class visual to support our learning.

PERSONAL GOALS

To continue to work on my personal goals that I have set with my teacher. I will use the strategies I learn at school during read to self, guided reading, and one-on-one feedback sessions with my teachers to help me engage in the books that I have at home.
